FROM THE EDGE

DINGLE DISTILLERY IS INSPIRED
BY ITS RUGGED BEAUTY, THE RICH
TRADITIONS OF THE TOWN
AND ITS DEEP SENSE OF COMMUNITY

A man in a black t-shirt is working inside a large, multi-tiered wooden distillation still. The still is made of dark wood with metal bands and has a small metal access door at the bottom. Steam is rising from the top of the still. In the background, there are large copper distillation vessels with long, curved necks, and various pipes and mechanical components are visible. The setting appears to be an industrial distillery.

DINGLE DISTILLERY

At Dingle Distillery, we're proudly independent - dedicated to crafting authentic, high-quality spirits by hand. Driven by genuine passion and a deep connection to our home.

Dingle Distillery was founded in 2012 by three friends- Oliver Hughes, Liam LaHart, and Peter Mosley - who first made their name in Ireland's craft beer scene.

Independent to the core, they set out to do something different: bring whiskey back to small-batch distilling and hand-crafted maturation.

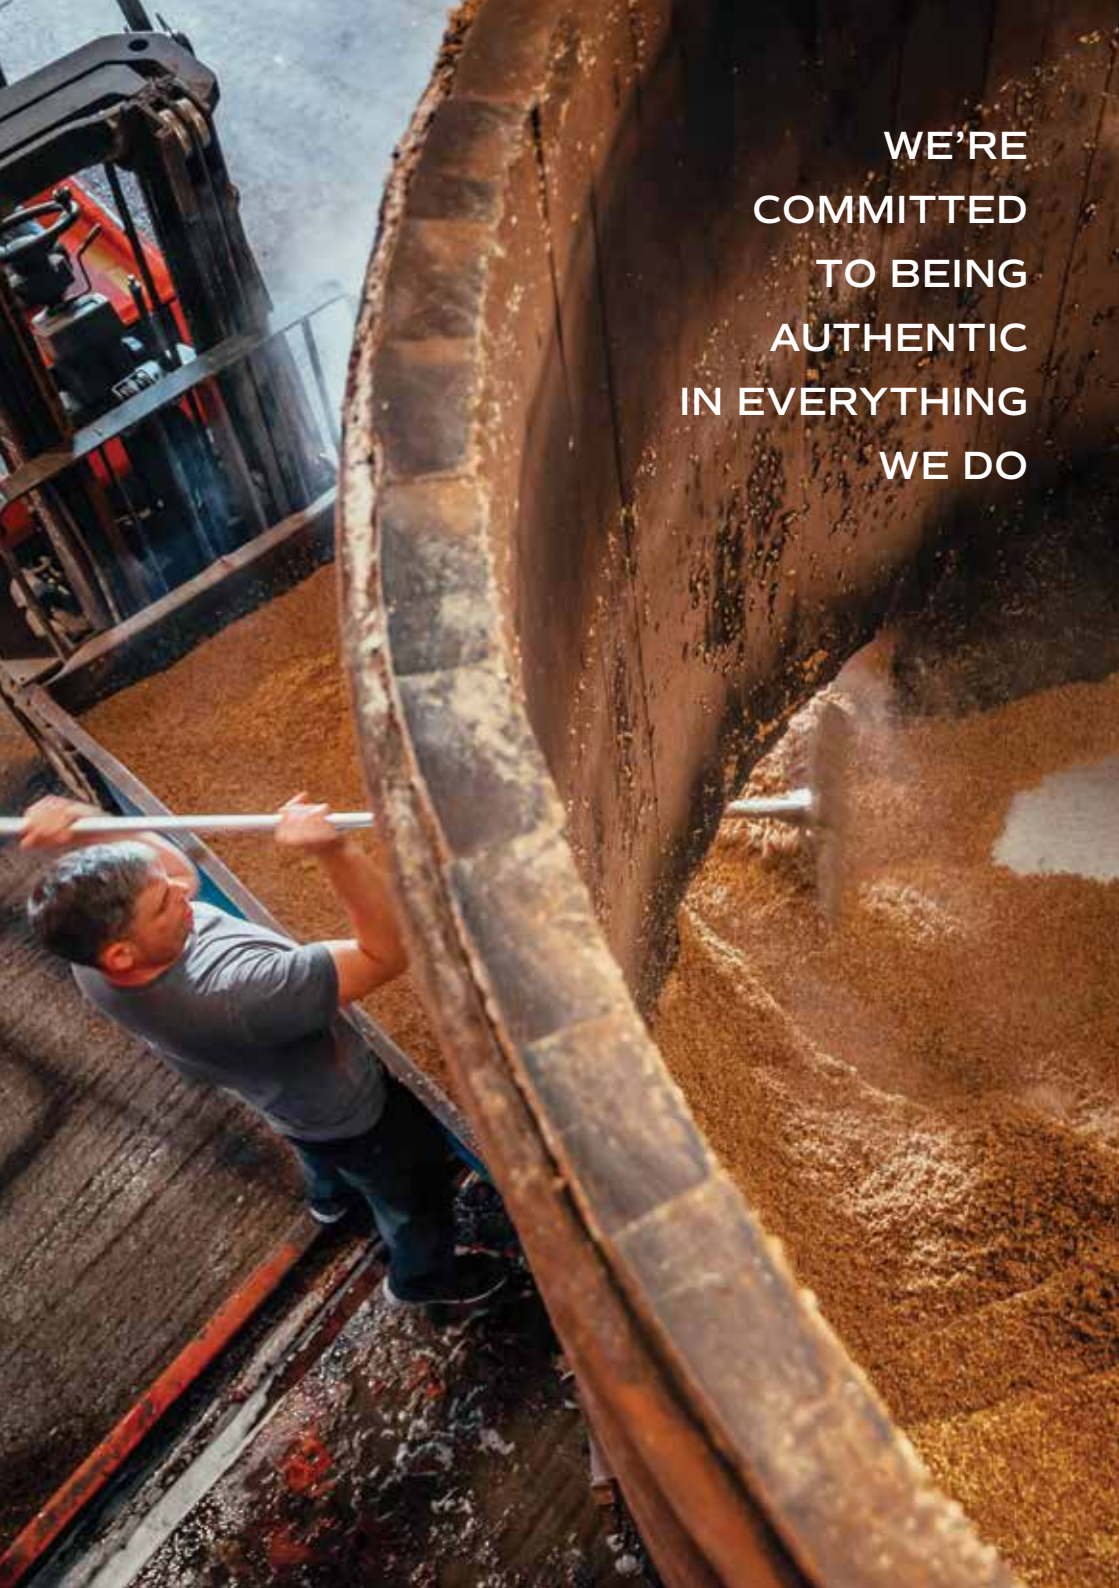

They chose Dingle not just for its beauty, but for its spirit - a place where community matters and doing things the right way still counts. What began as a bold idea during tough times has grown into one of Ireland's most respected independent distilleries, shaped by people who care deeply about the craft.

We create spirits that reflect the craft, character, and community that make Dingle special. We value the people who make our journey possible - our team, our community, and everyone who shares a glass with us.

We're committed to being authentic in everything we do, ensuring every drop reflects our passion for quality.

As an independent distillery, we take pride in staying true to ourselves, crafting spirits with care, and always doing things our way.

DINGLE DISTILLERY

We are very happy to call this corner of the world our home and have come a long way since we began distilling in 2012.

Dingle is a place like no other, a small but vibrant town on the Dingle Peninsula on the west coast of Ireland. Part of a Gaeltacht area, where the Irish language is preserved and actively spoken in daily life, the town is a major tourist destination and is famed for its welcoming atmosphere and hospitality.

Dingle is brimming with culture and craft inspired by local traditions like the wren boy, a centuries-old celebration of music, storytelling, and togetherness that reflects the heart of Dingle's spirit. A place truly unto itself.

We have released acclaimed Single Malt and Single Pot Still Irish Whiskeys, alongside our award-winning spirits - including Dingle Gin, crowned World's Best Gin in 2019, and our quintuple-distilled Dingle Vodka.

Every bottle we produce carries the spirit of Dingle - its rugged beauty, its warm community, and its sense of place.

DINGLE WHISKEY

Dingle Whiskey is distilled, matured, and bottled in Dingle Distillery.

Dingle Whiskey is a product of its environment. From the localised well water, which comes from our sustainable well 240 feet directly below our distillery, to the immensely manual mashing, alongside the wooden fermentation vessels that feed into the three bespoke copper pot stills, the production is purely Dingle.

Our spirit is triple distilled and every aspect of our process is manual from the mashing to the addition of yeast and the cutting of the heads and tails of our spirit. The micro-climate then creates a maturation like no other. Our cask maturation consists of Bourbon casks and a variety of fortified wine casks such as, Pedro Ximénez, Oloroso, Port, Muscatel and Madeira as well as Red Wine casks. When these casks have reached their full maturation, they are then hand-selected to create a marriage of whiskeys which gives Dingle Whiskey its hand-crafted uniqueness.

We do not manipulate the course of our whiskey, only nature can do that.

Dingle Gin was awarded World's Best London Dry Gin, along with the overall title of World's Best Gin 2019. Our aim was to create a truly distinctive London Dry style Gin, one that sits within the rich tradition of gin distilling.

We use, amongst other botanicals, rowan berry, bog myrtle, hawthorn and heather for a taste of the Kerry landscape.

DINGLE VODKA

KEY INFORMATION

Dingle Distillery Vodka is most unusual in being quintuple distilled. We set out to make a really, really good vodka but even we were surprised when we tasted the first batch. It was one of those rare times when you get something perfectly right at the first go.

Our still is charged with 500 litres of the finest, purest, grain alcohol and is then distilled for a fifth and final time. That fifth distillation makes a huge difference. You can taste it in the incredible purity that is as pure as the environment where we make it.

TASTING NOTES

An incredible soft and creamy mouth feel with a hint of sweetness. A wonderful citrus finish which is both refreshing and memorable. It is exceptionally good drunk neat.

AN UNBROKEN
TRADITION,
IN A TOWN

THE WREN BOY

The Dingle Wren Boy is an iconic representation of the town of Dingle as a stronghold of tradition and how this is valued by the whole community. The Wren Boy represents both the past and present of this unique town in Ireland and is a true expression of belonging to a place.

The biggest celebration in the town falls on Wren's Day, the 26th of December. A day of music and marching around the town lead by the Wren Boys. Wren's Day is not a quaint revival of ancient customs or rituals. It is a living, vibrant celebration which survives to this day because it is an event for the people of the town and the Dingle peninsula to enjoy themselves at this festive season.

A vital feature of participation in, and the survival of the festival is, that the people of Dingle simply regard it as great fun. Dingle certainly appreciates the historical background but more importantly, is that they are doing what previous generations did before them. What makes it unique is that it has continued as an unbroken tradition, in a town where tradition runs deep. Yes, it has evolved over the generations but has never died out.

Stories from people in Dingle about being abstemious on Christmas Day in order to "save themselves for Wren's Day" are not uncommon.
